Metrotile BOND

Our most popular range, Metrotile Bond features a traditional pantile profile.

The range is available in a choice of colours to suit particular design and planning requirements, as well as two thicknesses, 450 and 900.

Metrotile Bond 450 is suitable for the vast majority of standard applications, whereas Metrotile Bond 900 offers added security and safety – for applications that may require additional resistance to foot traffic or protection from vandalism.

Each tile is the equivalent of eight conventional roof tiles and may be fixed from vertical right down to a 10° pitch; tiles are overlapped and then fixed, providing excellent strength and durability.
